

LO I am learning to write from the Iron Man's perspective - Senses Chart

Imagine you are the Iron Man and you are hungry! What can you see, hear, touch, smell and taste, near the village of Flamborough?

See

- The bright and colourful red lorey
- The brown farmer's house
- The farmer's son (Hogarth)
- The shiny farmer's car racing across the road
- The farmers' staring at me from the top of the pit.
- I felt fear that I would never climb the steep walls of the hole that were surrounding me .
- I could see the starry night sky and felt frustrated that I couldn't be up there.

Touch

- The silver iron fence
- The rusty mud at the bottom of the pit
- The tractor that I ate and left it half
- The machinery of the farmers' that I destroyed as I bit it in half.
- The dirt at the bottom of the massive, colossal whole .

Hear

- The clinking of the nail and the knife that tricked me into falling down the rusty pit
- The hush of the crystal clear sea
- The loud cheer of the farmers' when their plan worked and I fell in the hole.
- The crashing of the earth that fell on me.

Taste and smell

- The scrumptious taste of the iron tractor
- The smell of the salty sea
- The delicious machinery of the farmers'
- The disgusting smell of the dead hen that was left there by Hogarth.
- The delightful flavour of the iron tools of the farmers'
- The drenched , disgusting smell of the mud in the pi
